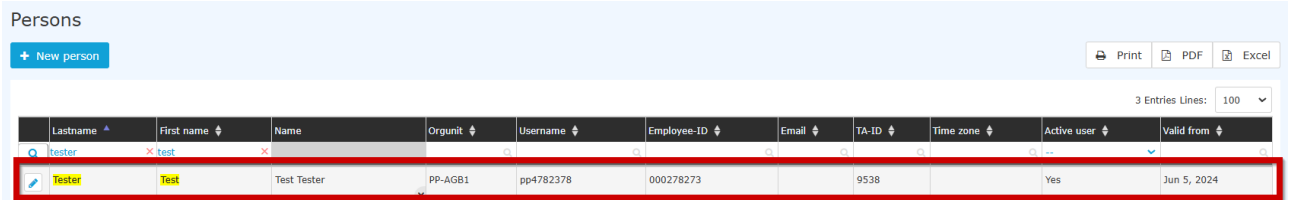
Who is "Tester" in the persons list?

"A user with the last name "Tester" appears in the persons list, and I did not create this user. Where does this user come from?"



Explanation:
Such users were created by the Personalwolke team in the course of configuring your company or changing the configurations, to serve as a template for creating persons.

The test/template users always have the last name Tester and usually have an employee number that consists of "only nines" after the prefix (XYZ- 99999).

Such users do not generate any costs for you as a Personalwolke customer!
