Job FillPersonCloudLicences

Purpose and status

The job creates or updates the person license assignments from the customer cloud licenses. It is configurable and inactive by default in the job descriptor.

Configuration

- Days in the past to generate person licenses (daysInPast): Specifies how many days are processed retroactively.
- If the value is left empty or is 0, only the current day is processed. With a positive value, all days from the calculated start date up to today are processed.

Processing

For each processing day, the job calls the cloud license service to generate the person licenses. A negative value is logged as a misconfiguration and reset to the current day.
