Job HrUpdatePositions

Purpose and Status

The job updates the calculated validity fields of HR positions. It is not configurable and is active by default in the job descriptor.

Processing

All positions are loaded. The HR position service updates the fields openFrom and openTo; the position is then saved via the database service intended for bulk processing. Errors for individual positions are logged in the job log.