General

Once the business trip has been completed, the user has the option of filling in the travel expense report with the actual costs and travel times incurred.

Travel expense reporting can be started in two ways:

1. you have submitted a request for business trip¹⁰ request that has "rested" until the business trip is completed and then transferred to your list of open tasks as a template for the travel expense report. This is then adjusted accordingly.

2. furthermore, it is also possible to request settlement directly via the menu item "Travel expenses" for employees who do not require approval for a travel request.

The business trip accounting comprises 7 steps, whereby the steps relating to traveldata, costs and attachments are already known from the requests for business trips

Navigation in the accounting menu:

You can jump in the program

- by clicking on the fields "Back" and "Next" or
- by clicking on the heading fields 1-7

WARNUNG

The following descriptions refer to the standard version of the business trip accounting. Due to the possibility of individualising this, there may be deviations in some places for the respective user with regard to the displayed fields / input options.

1. Traveldata

The fields marked with red dashes are mandatory.

The following must therefore be completed:

- from Date
- to Date
- Travel type: In-county travel
- Start region: This is set to the country in which the applicant's place of employment is located when selecting "domestic travel", i.e. Austria if the applicant's place of employment is Austria.
- Target region: This is set to the country in which the applicant's place of employment is located when selecting "domestic travel", i.e. Austria if the applicant's place of employment is Austria
- Start location: Active entry of the start address of the journey, i.e. e.g. the business address or the private residential address.
- Target location: entry of the address, e.g. the hotel at the destination, a conference centre, a customer location, etc.
- Travel reason: o mandatory entry
- Description: for further information
- Nightly allowances: If applicable, the number of private overnight stays (i.e. not in a hotel; without invoice; e.g.: with relatives / friends) in Austria must be recorded here. These overnight stays are usually compensated with a lump sum, which depends on the respective collective agreement.

After entering the dates of the start and end of the trip, another field opens for entering the times of departure and return (from time/to time).

The actual total duration of the trip must now be entered in this input mask. Based on the entries in from date, to date, from time and to time, the daily allowance due is calculated.

On this page, meals paid directly by the company are recorded, e.g. if you receive meal allowance or similar, which is offset against restaurant costs or similar in this way.

If this is not the case for you, please click on the line "No meals paid by company (no allowance discounts)". This will cause all checkpoints to be set to "No".

The following must be entered in the mandatory fields:

- from Date
- from km: Mileage of the vehicle at departure (or at the beginning of a daily stage)

- to km: Mileage of the vehicle after the return (or at the end of a daily stage)
- Amount km: is calculated on the basis of the mileage entered and cannot be overwritten

Additional inputs are required for

- Num. of pass(engeres)
- Amount/km passengers

as these are also included in the calculation of the kilometre allowance at best.

Route: The data for the starting point and destination are already entered, but can be edited and supplemented by using the buttons:

Clicking on opens a link to Google Maps, which can be used to mark the stages of the journey. The total number of kilometres between the starting point and destination (or back) is also entered.

If the journey to or from the conference takes place over several stages, e.g. if several conference venues are visited on different days, each stage must be recorded separately by adding another kilometre allowance receipt.

In the example below, the journey to and from the conference is made by car and two other passengers were taken along, who travelled almost the entire distance.
