Technical concept

- J2EE technology
- Java industry standard
- flexible basis-infrastructure

Webdesk EWP is based on J2EE technology. It is a completely new construction based on Java industry standards. The necessary basis infrastructure can be chosen absolutely flexibly. Webdesk EWP supports all common database systems and application servers. In case there is no need to integrate basic infrastructure, Webdesk EWP can be implemented basing on open source middleware.

Example:
	Webdesk EWP is a developing framework with integrated process engine, which is used modular in accordance with the functional requirements.
